

Honorable Judge: Stephen R. Bough

Your honor, we as united states citizens would like to start by saying, "We all have equal protection of law rights and due process of law. We here as parole violators in the state of Missouri, are concern about MacArthur Justice Center in St. Louis, which filed the lawsuit in August 2017. Against Missouri Board of Probation and Parole, Missouri Board is in violation of the Constitution for the procedures and policies they use for the parole revocation process. The Board are making the parole revocation a lottery pick which is unconstitutional. Missouri supposed to reform its parole policies constitutional norms. Which they have not did, they say that the parole revocation process has been changed. We as parole violators, see a different side that they present to the courts, news, and organizations. They continue to pressuras inmates to waive hearing, telling inmates the process will be faster. On our violations report they present alot of confusing paperwork, that we don't know what violation we are accused of committing. Judge Bough, after you order Missouri Board to change their policies and procedures, they disregarded your order and continue to make a game out of paroleas lives. Missouri Board has been operating "this unconstitutional parole revocation system so long, its a habit for them to violate our due process. They been doing this for some time now, they don't know how to change it or reform the unjust reincarceration. Even after a federal Judge gave them orders and let the Missouri Board know that they were in clear violation of the Constitution for the procedures and policies they use for the parole revocation process. Our due process taken from us, the Board treat violators as numbers placed in a box, and its the luck of the draw.

Our hearts are heavy burdened due to the deprivation of our Constitutional rights and equal protection. We ask the courts to stand acknowledge years of heartache, give inmates a chance and due process safeguards. The Missouri Board still Manipulate and Entrap us, reentered us into the prison system. Judge Stephen R. Bough, we as parolees, ask the courts to remind Missouri Board of Probation and Parole, that they have an order from a Federal Judge. We as parole violators, if we go against what a Judge order, it against the law and will be arrested. Whats the different between the Board and the parolee? (Law is Law)
